News from the Principal

April 3, 2020

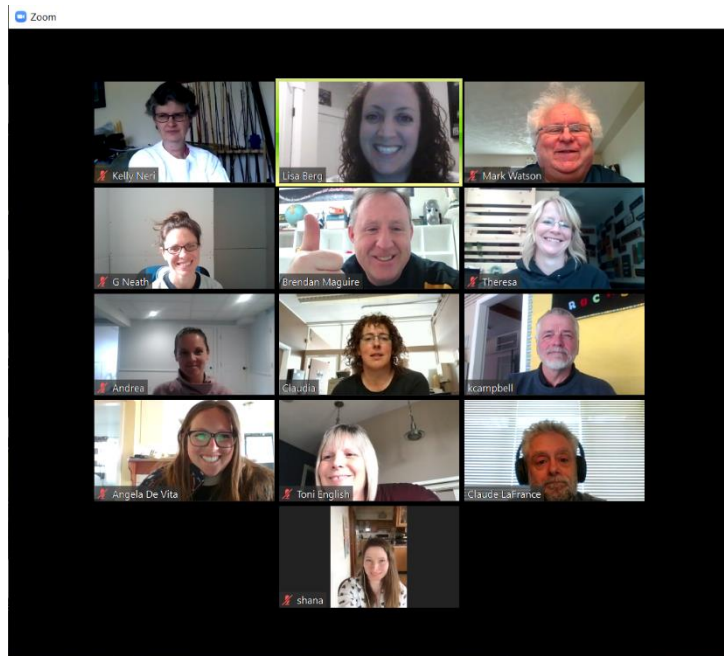

Hello families!

Welcome back from Spring Break! ☺ On Monday and Thursday, I met with our staff on ZOOM and it was so nice to see them all again. I prefer them in 3D but for now my computer screen will have to do!

We are navigating new waters in education and now more than ever are understanding that we teachers are always going to be learners ourselves. Some of our staff are more comfortable using technology than others, just like many parents, but I want to emphasize to parents that our teachers connecting online with our students is not going to consume your day or meant to cause you unnecessary stress. We aim to provide families with learning opportunities that can provide joy, promote deep thinking, and foster questioning in young minds.

Stay tuned for some online story time and guided drawing with Mrs. Berg beginning next week!

These days of physical distancing can cause stress for families and we at Assumption want to be relievers of stress, not add to it. Please watch your email for more information regarding tuition assistance for families experiencing financial challenges due to COVID-19.

If at any point over the next few weeks of our journey into this new way of learning causes anxiety, stress, or other challenging emotions, please get in touch with us and let us know how we can help.

♥ Mrs. Berg
